Colma Rezoning Bid

Decision Tonight?

Colma's City Council again will take up a controversial request to rezone a 10-acre site on El Camino Real for development as a K-Mart Store.

The council is expected to make a decision Wednesday on the rezoning request by Michigan developer E. N. Maisel.

The proposal, which has been in the planning stage since last fall, would utilize the Pacific Nurseries site at the Serramonte Boulevard corner. The store would include other retail space and a 600-car parking lot.

A lengthy public hearing, consisting primarily of argument between the developer's staff and a San Francisco lawyer, who refuses to name his anti-rezoning clients, was held two weeks ago.

The matter was continued until Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. A majority of the council has not indicated for or against the proposal.

Proposal On Rec Vehicles

A proposed San Mateo County ordinance prohibiting the parking of recreation vehicles in front yards of residences will be discussed by the County Planning Commission Wednesday.

Discussion will begin at 9 a.m. at the Hall of Justice in Redwood City. According to a planning staff report, the proposed ordinance would permit the parking of recreational vehicles, boats and trailers on the side or rear yards of residential property.

However, stored vehicles in those areas, the proposed ordinance states, must be screened from adjacent properties and streets by a fence, wall, —See PARKING, Page 2

Castelan Appeals Program Ouster

An incident involving a knife has brought about the dismissal of Julius Castelan as manager of the Senior Citizens Nutrition Program at Lincoln Park Clubhouse in Daly City.

Castelan, 79, has been an active voice for Daly City senior citizens and an employee of the program since it began three years ago.

Ocie Sherrell, the program's cook, charged that Castelan threatened her with a knife after an argument, according to Daly City Police.

Castelan was dismissed for alleged gross misconduct by Kathleen Haney, county director of senior citizen nutrition projects.

Castelan has appealed the dismissal to Edward Becks, executive director of the Economic Opportunity Commission.

DC Cab Firm Gets Permits, Peninsula Yellow Doesn't

Daly City's City Council Monday night granted 12 permanent taxicab permits to Daly City Cab Co. and declined to grant 10 others to Peninsula Yellow Cab Co.

Daly City Cab Co. has been operating in the city for several months under temporary permits since Yellow Cab, the area-wide company formerly serving the Daly City area, went out of business.

City Council, in a 4-0 vote, authorized the 12 permits to Daly City Cab Co.

and, in another unanimous vote, tabled Peninsula Yellow Cab's request.

Council members said Peninsula Yellow Cab may want to bring its request to City Council again if Daly City Cab Co. requests a future rate increase.

Council declined to act on Peninsula Yellow Cab's request, because the rate the company was asking, $.90 per pickup and $.10 per mile, was higher than Daly City Cab Co.'s proposal.

Daly City Cab's rate structure was approved at $.80 per pickup and $.80 per mile.

City Atty. Albert Polonsky pointed out that Yellow Cab previously had been allowed about 21 permits by Daly City, so it was possible to approve both requests for permanent permits on the basis of need. One permit is required for each taxicab operated in the city.

However, he also said that "there could be some problem with two companies operating at different rates."

Polonsky elaborated that it would be unfair to consumers, unless the companies agreed to post rates conspicuously on their cabs, or make similar arrangements.

The suggestion did not appear to meet with approval from representatives of either cab company.

George Corey, attorney for the South San Francisco-based Peninsula Yellow

Cab Co., also spurned a suggestion that the company lower its rates.

"The company would not operate in Daly City at a lower rate," Corey said. "Cab companies are going bust all over the state. Unless the company can come in at a rate where it can make a profit, it is not interested."

The attorney questioned Daly City Cab's ability to stay in business at its proposed rate.

"Are you going to have a cab company last long enough to service the people of Daly City?" Corey asked.

Polonsky remarked that "I do recall that Yellow Cab went bankrupt" while operating at an $.80 rate.

McRobert Stewart Taken Off LAFCO

Atherton Councilman Malcolm Dudley was appointed to the Local Agency Formation Commission Wednesday by the Mayors City Selection Committee. Dudley will replace Daly City Councilman McRobert Stewart, who has served since May 1973. Dudley's first LAFCO meeting will be on May 18.

Selection committee clerk Eileen Kenyon White reported the following votes cast for the three LAFCO seat nominees: Dudley, 12 votes; Stewart, four votes; and William Rhodes of Redwood City, one.

In other action, the 17 city representatives named Jane Baker, San Mateo councilwoman, as their delegate to the Association of Bay Area Governments, effective July 1, with Tony Governale of San Bruno as alternate. The other city representatives to ABAG from San Mateo County are Nat Landers of Woodside and David Martin of Burlingame, as alternate.

Finally, six appointments were made to the Criminal Justice Council for terms expiring on June 30. They are:

Gary Mondfrans of San Bruno; Jeannine Hodge of Brisbane; Victor Mangini of Burlingame; Charles Allen, San Carlos city manager; Vern Coppock, San Mateo police chief; and James Datzman, South San Francisco police chief.

The City Managers Association will be requested to name a replacement for David Rowe, Daly City city manager, whose term is expiring, Mrs. White said.

Murder Trial Set to Begin

Jury selection has begun in the trial of a Daly City woman charged with murder in the shooting death of her husband last fall.

Antoinette Brown, 22, is charged with killing her husband, Edward, 34, after he purportedly came home accompanied by another woman.

The case was assigned to Superior Court Judge Robert H. Carey in Redwood City.

Mrs. Brown, represented by attorney John Davids, has pleaded not guilty. Deputy Dist. Atty. Russell L. Moore is prosecuting.

Hell's Angels Cycle Buried, House Burns

Sunday Slain Leader's Bike Laid To Rest With 'The Horse' Blaze: Arson?

By NANCY STANCILL

In a curiously touching ceremony, a motorcycle was laid to rest Friday in the grave of its late Hell's Angel owner.

The unusual burial took place Friday morning at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

Harry (the Horse) Flambrus, leader of the San Francisco Hell's Angels, was murdered with his girlfriend in an execution-style slaying in January. He was buried at Cypress Lawn with much flash and pomp.

More than 300 bikers from across the United States roared into Colma to attend his January funeral.

The atmosphere was entirely different Friday.

At 10:30 a.m., four motorcycles, an old car and a blue van rolled up El Camino Real. They drove directly inside the cemetery grounds without stopping.

The vehicles were parked beside a grass-covered knoll and eight men and women got out.

They were joined by Paul Howe, Cypress Lawn superintendent, and several reporters who disregarded Howe's angry request to leave the grounds.

The three onlookers silently watched from the street as the long-haired young men lifted a shiny motorcycle from the van and carried it reverently to the grave site.

The three women quickly combed their long flowing hair and hastened to bring tool kits to the open grave.

The gathering was dressed casually in jeans and jackets, some bearing the Hell's Angels' emblem. They were quiet and reserved, ignoring the reporters and talking easily among themselves.

After some gesturing and consulting with Howe, the Angels worked quickly and deftly.

First they took off the handlebars of the massive bike, dropping them into the open grave. Then they removed the front wheel, setting it aside.

In the background on the knoll, a bulldozer scooped up dirt for another grave. A pickup truck rattled down the hill. Only a few scattered noises disturbed the peace of the proceedings.

A middle-aged widow tending her husband's grave walked up to observe the curious sight.

"You really see everything," she said in quiet disbelief.

It wasn't the first time a

Money Woes in DC Recreation

Faced with a $16,000 recreation budget "shortfall," the Daly City Council Monday night decided to scrounge up at least $10,000 to keep recreational facilities open during most of June.

However, the City Council decided that because of the anticipated shortage of funding for part-time recreation leaders, the city's recreation areas will shut down for one week, June 10-17.

The one-week closing was a compromise between a city staff suggestion that the facilities be closed for three weeks and the Parks and Recreation Commission's request that they operate in June as usual.

The extra $10,000 will come from the city's federal anti-recession funds, the council decided. New fiscal year funding for the Parks and Recreation Department will begin in July.

The one-week closing, to include after-school playgrounds, gymnasiums and the Westmoor pool, was suggested by Councilman Anthony A. Giammona to coincide with graduation week activities for junior high and high school students.

"It's kind of a dead week for recreation," said Giammona, who noted that gyms are closed at that time anyway, in preparation for graduation ceremonies.

It was explained that the Parks and Recreation Department's budget problems have developed because the shortage of rainfall has kept outdoor facilities open more than usual. In addition, there have been unanticipated expenditures relating to tennis and swimming.

Resident Sharon Smith spoke against the one-week facilities closing, noting that the department's budget is $12,000 less than it was last fiscal year.

"Maybe you didn't have enough money allocated in the first place," she said. "Why close them for one week?"

Mayor Pro Tem William J. Schumacher said he felt the proposal should be amended to keep the facilities open as usual.

He said such activities steer young people in the "right direction." "You might save $5,000, but what would you pay for in stolen property?"

Kitchen Fire Damages DC Home

Cooking French fries at home Wednesday night cost the David Bobb family of Daly City $2,000.

Two in North County

Recognition for Heroic Capture

Two local citizens will receive awards from Att. Gen. Evelle Younger this Friday for their heroic capture of a man who attempted to rob the restaurant they managed.

Ronald Wilczynski, 24, of San Bruno, and Clifton Billings, 28, of South San Francisco, were nominated by the Daly City Police Department to receive the annual awards. They will be honored at a ceremony and luncheon this Friday at Silverado Country Club in Napa.

Wilczynski and Billings were cleaning up the McDonald's restaurant at 505 Serramonte Blvd., Daly City, when 19-year-old John Rudolph of Boston knocked on the door.

Although the restaurant was closed, they unlocked the door. Rudolph produced a .357 magnum revolver and demanded money.

As Rudolph pointed the gun at Billings, Wilczynski jumped Rudolph. In the struggle, Rudolph fired two shots and managed to break away.

When Rudolph later turned to look for other employees at the back of the restaurant, Wilczynski jumped him again. Though Rudolph fired another shot, Billings and Wilczynski managed to disarm him and held him on the floor until police arrived.

Rudolph was prosecuted and convicted for armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon.

replied that though the proposed rate structure was the same, the "setup is different" in the small Daly City-based organization.

"If you put the rates in excess, you drive the customer away," he said.

Councilman Anthony A. Giammona said he would "find it hard to approve a higher rate" when one company could provide the same service less expensively.

His statements were applauded by resident Pat Portillo, who asked, "Is council here to serve people or serve business?"

Heinz promised to provide complete insurance and backups and said most vehicles are 1974 to current models.

He said cab stands will be located at The Cow Palace, Rio Verde Street at Geneva Avenue, Skyline Plaza Shopping Center, Mission Street at East Market Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard at Eighty-seventh Street.

gate, door or hedge of six feet in height.

The recommended ordinance would prohibit parking of recreational vehicles in front yards for more than two weeks in any one year period and would not allow parking of the vehicles on a vacant lot.

The proposed ordinance would only affect those who reside in unincorporated sections of the county.

Held in Gun Incident

Daly City police arrested two teen-age boys early today after receiving a report of a chrome-plated weapon being brandished at a restaurant.

A spokesman for the department said two youths, 16 and 17, drove into the Jack-in-the-Box restaurant on Mission Street about 3:30 a.m. After ordering, they were informed the food must be prepared and there would be a wait.

One of the youths, police said, reportedly drew a 22-caliber derringer. The attendant at the restaurant reacted by saying he would not serve the pair. They drove off.

Restaurant employees obtained a license number, which they relayed, along with a description of the vehicle, to police.

The car was spotted about 10 minutes later on Mission, near Florentine just inside San Francisco. Police said the youths possessed a wallet, credit cards and traveler's checks belonging to a San Francisco man. The man informed authorities that he had been robbed of $20 by two youths in San Francisco Monday night.

Two were charged with brandishing a weapon, carrying a concealed weapon and possession of stolen property.

Pacifica Rejects Fireworks Ban

At a Monday night meeting marked by less tension than usual, the Pacifica City Council voted down a proposal to ban fireworks and shied away from serving as a collection agency for funds to help the handicapped sit-in in Washington, D.C.

Councilwoman Janice Fulford introduced a motion for a moratorium on the sale of fireworks until Jan. 1, 1978.

She recalled that the City Council had voted to ban fireworks two years ago, but that the action had been rescinded.

"One of the reasons given for rescinding it was that it was useless to ban fireworks unless other cities banned them," said Mrs. Fulford. She also said that the council had recognized the desire to have fireworks available for the Bicentennial.

Councilman Stanley Farber reacted bitterly, noting how "they (the other cities) all laughed at us when we went before them." He said, "I will never support a piece of legislation on banning fireworks unless . . . at least San Mateo County supports it."

The motion failed, 3-2.

A citizen, Kathleen McGuire, asked the council to facilitate the gathering of funds in support of Lucy Muir, who is in Washington, D.C. with other handicapped persons seeking enforcement of legislation that would affect jobs for the handicapped.

She said Mrs. Muir, a Pacifica resident, sat in the Federal Building in San Francisco for 19 days before the group took its case to the capital. Mrs. Muir is affiliated with the California Association of the League of Handicapped People.

The council balked at Mrs. McGuire's request.

Explained Farber:

"The question is not why we have elevators and ramps for the handicapped that other cities don't have. The question is whether a city should accept responsibility for accepting funds for any cause."

A spokeswoman for the United Citizens for Pacifica offered that group's mailbox as a collection point. Persons who wish to support the handicapped cause can make out checks to the "Center of Independent Living/504 Coalition" and mail them to P.O. Box 671, Pacifica of bikers from throughout the country.

Friday, in somber ceremonies, Flambur's motorcycle and a sleeping bag were placed in the grave at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

A fire department spokesman said there were "strong indications of arson" in the 1:42 a.m. Sunday blaze at the Flambur's house at 218 Abbott St.

A police department source said several containers "found nearby" are being checked for fingerprints.

The house had been unoccupied since its owner was slain.

The fire department received numerous calls on the blaze, firemen said, and the structure was fully engulfed when fire fighting apparatus arrived.

"Flames were showing right away," a fire department spokesman said. The fire was described as "stubborn," and firemen were at the scene for some five hours under the direction of Battalion Chief Wayne Alexander.

Damage to the structure was estimated at $30,000, and $15,000 to contents.

Also, firemen said, a blue van had been used Friday to transport the motorcycle to the Colma cemetery for burial.

Authorities do not know if the burned vehicle is the same one.

vehicle has been buried in Colma. Cypress Lawn alone has reported two other bike burials.

A dark-haired young Angel sped off on his motorcycle, returning shortly with a grocery bag. He carried it to the grave site and opened a bottle of champagne.

The group passed around the bottle and took communal sips as they worked.

At 11:15 a.m. the men were ready to lower the weighty motorcycle body into the grave. They attached ropes around it and set it down. Two men got into the grave and set the front wheel gently on top of the main piece. Miscellaneous parts followed.

A hush came over the group. One of the young women walked to the van and slowly returned with an old sleeping bag. It was also placed in the grave.

The gathering then began to cast dark looks in the direction of the reporters. The reporters took the hint.

At last, the solemn group was left alone to mourn the man now buried with his motorcycle.

Week for Veterans

California has proclaimed May 1-7 as "Hire the Veteran" week.

For those in the 20-24 age bracket, the jobless rate is now estimated to be 15.8 per cent, almost double that for male nonveterans in the same age group.

The California Employment Development Department encourages employers to think of the veteran, especially the young or disabled veteran.

Chamber Music

From June 13 through July 10, some of America's finest chamber music players will gather at The San Francisco Conservatory of Music to perform with outstanding young artist-students and a group of guest performers. This gathering of performers will come to the Conservatory to participate in its first chamber music festival: Chamber Music/West.

Chamber Music/West will begin with a special benefit concert at the Paul Masson Vineyards in Saratoga, June 19, at 3:30 p.m. This will be the 100th anniversary concert at the Masson Vineyards.

For further details, contact Jennifer Hill at the Conservatory, 1201 Ortega Street, San Francisco 94122; telephone 564-8086.

Music in Vineyards

"Music at the Vineyards" will celebrate its 20th season and its 100th concert with a special benefit program for the San Francisco Conservatory of Music on June 19, at 3:30 p.m. at the Paul Masson Mountain Winery.

This concert is part of the conservatory's new festival called Chamber Music/West.

All "Music at the Vineyards" programs begin at 3:30 p.m. The price for a single ticket is $5.75; a student ticket at $3.00 is available only on Saturday. The special benefit concert on June 19 is $10.00. All proceeds from the June 10 concert will go to the San Francisco Conservatory of Music's scholarship fund. Proceeds from the other concerts go toward music scholarships at California State Universities at San Francisco and San Jose.

Tickets are available only by mail and only in advance. For complete details and order form, write: Paul Masson "Music at the Vineyards," Box 97, Saratoga, 95070.

Colma Readies for Fair and Olympics

Colma Elementary School will hold its International Fair and Olympics on April 30. The Olympics, starting at noon, will include track and field events for all grades and some special events for parents and children to enter together, including a potato race and a water balloon catching contest.

The fair will open in the Multi-Use Room at 1 p.m. with exhibits of cultural artifacts and foods representing all the ethnic groups present in the community. International children's games, souvenirs and cotton candy will be sold.

For entertainment, there will be a human jukebox and students will present American, Mexican and Filipino dances. A group of Mexican dancers from Stanford University will perform also, as will the Kalico Kats square dancers of Daly City.

Rebecca Salazar is coordinating the fair and David Reznick is coordinating the Olympics, both with the help of many parents and teachers.

Health Talk Subject

Emphasis will be on "normal" development stages and crises of various age groups during Mental Health Month in Northern San Mateo County. Entitled, "The Life Spectrum: Growing Through Knowing," the program will consist of weekly meetings throughout the month of May, each to be held in a different North County location.

Announcement of the programs was made this week by the North County Citizens' Advisory Board and the North County Mental Health Center. "Purpose of the program," a spokesman explained, "is to educate the public about common occurrence activities and crises at various life stages and to familiarize people with the activities and services available at the Mental Health Center."

The first of the programs will be held at Breuners', 305 Gellert, Daly City, on May 2 at 7 p.m. and will deal with development from infancy through adolescence.

Future programs, which will be held in Brisbane, South San Francisco and Pacifica will cover the topics: "Young Adult," "Middle Age," and "Elderly."

Further information may be obtained by calling North County Mental Health community services staff at 994-3030.

Budget Talk, Public Invited

On May 2 at 7:30 p.m., the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees will hold a 1977-78 budget study session in the Oceana High School Library.

Community members are invited to attend and participate in this budget study session. The final draft of the budget will be adopted during the first week of August 1977.

Child Care Center Opens

"Friends of St. Francis," a child care center being sponsored by The Friends Outside chapter and headed by South San Franciscan Louise Enberg, is inviting the public to an open house this afternoon.

The new facility, conceived and implemented as a means of providing learning experiences for children of prisoners whose wives wish to take part in on-the-job training, go to school or work, is now accepting students. The sponsors and the staff are anxious to show off their handiwork.

The center is open five days a week, from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. with breakfast, lunch and snacks to be served.

Enrollment will not be limited to the families of prisoners and others are invited to apply for admission. The center is located at 50 Belcher street in San Francisco. Anyone interested is invited to visit the facility between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. Applications will be available.

THE HISTORY of the art of photography will be the topic of a talk to be given by Frank Spadarella to the members of the Friends of the Daly City Library at their meeting tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the Community Room of the Westlake Library.

Spadarella will relate the history of the art of photography, from the first plate to modern times. He studied modern photography in New York City and has worked with Brett Weston, Paul Copanigro and Oliver Gogioni. He also has attended workshops with Ansel Adams.

Spadarella has won awards for his photography locally and at the San Mateo County Fair.

Following the review a no-host luncheon will be held in Spadarella's honor at Toto's Restaurant, 1913 Junipero Serra Blvd.

FLOWERS 'N' FASHIONS will be presented Saturday by the Daly City Civic Ballet at 11:30 a.m. in the Franciscan Country Club.

Mrs. Pat Rubino, a member of the board of directors, reports that the afternoon will include a program by the Civic Ballet under the direction of Diane Roberts.

DUNSMUIR HOUSE will be toured by the members of the Pacific Fifty Plus Club next week as a part of their May program.

The day long bus tour will include luncheon at Juanita's in Port Costa and a visit to Benicia. Cost of the entire day will be $12.50.

Call Lucille Rentmeester for details.

MEMBERS OF Alpha Phi Omega, business women's sorority, will hold a mother-daughter luncheon May 7.

The annual event will be held in The El Rancho Inn in Millbrae at noon. Price will be $4.75 per person. All reservations must be made prior to next Wednesday.

"MEDITERRANEAN HOLIDAY," the four day festival being sponsored by the members of the Westlake Catholic Women and the Westlake Catholic Men of Our Lady of Mercy Parish, is set to debut next week.

Harry Kanelopoulos is the general chairman. Mrs. James McCann is the floor chairwoman. The festival will feature all the usual attractions of the annual fund raiser plus the decorations created by Edward Cuevas, Al Modena and John Hughes to set the scene for the Mediterranean theme.

Dinner reservations and investment tickets are already available from Mrs. Julian Fernando, Richard Galliani or Mrs. Richard Mudge, Mrs. John Willden and George Iwai.

MAY 11, the members of the Daly City Seniors' Club will observe the advent of National Senior Citizens Week with a special program at the Lincoln Park Clubhouse meeting site, according to Mrs. Louise Buttle, club secretary.

"Beauty and harmony are as necessary as life." So reads a truism found in a fortune cookie.

The time has come to raise a mighty groundswell of support for the various fine art programs of the schools and city recreation of the departments. These are the subjects that have as their special purpose the contemplation of beauty which is the quality that prepares the mind to create symmetry from the knowledge it acquires.

Notwithstanding their importance, the fine arts are always fighting for existence. It is a shame that the fine arts departments must operate on budgets that are sadly inadequate. It is a shame when talented youngsters must play to empty halls and upon inadequate stages. It is disgraceful that musicians must sing and play to a handful of adults who seem more desirous of taking junior's picture than hearing how he has learned to perform. It is outrageous to know that youthful painters, photographers and other artists cannot get an audience to view their works.

The time has come for PTA's and civic groups to see that no youthful actor or singer or artist is disappointed and disillusioned from performing because few people in the community were interested. The time has come for the school administrators and city officials to lend their support to the various activities. The time has come for the press and media to resolve that every activity will be adequately publicized and reported.

A good time to start is right now. On May 6, 7, 12, 13 and 14 Serramonte High School will be presenting

Wisdom from a Fortune Cookie

"Westside Story." On May 6 and 7, students from Westmoor High School will perform "David and Lisa." Even now the depiction of every school district in Northern San Mateo County is on display in the Daly City Civic Center. These activities need support.

The modern school has assembled an amazing array of books and tools to encourage students to learn about the earth they live on and about the environment that man has created for them. The various cities have provided parks and recreational facilities, libraries and protective services that enrich the life of people therein. What is missing is greater regard for the ability of the final arts to create harmony in all things through involving the body, mind, emotions and spirit of the performers and the people who watch them.

Caroline E. Fisher and Hazel G. Robertson write in their book, "Children and the Theater," the fine arts "proffer children a fascinating pursuit offering rich, meaningful expression. Just as the attraction of the workshop arrests their attention, so children need participation in an imaginative situation that requires planning, patient cooperation and conscientious practice."

As Fisher and Robertson write, the arts lead the student to the development of sympathy and tolerance for others through emphasis upon thoroughly understanding persons other than themselves. The theater and exhibit hall are laboratories for developing special abilities and aptitudes as well as laboratories for social adjustment leading to efficiency, happiness and understanding.

Because the arts are so important they must be supported much more than they are now.

The time has come to rise to the challenge.

Warren Gabrielle of Daly City has been named vice chairman of the San Mateo County Arts Council. He was secretary to the board of directors prior to his appointment.

Volunteer Assistance Is Needed

The following agencies have requested volunteer assistance from the Volunteer Bureau/Voluntary Action Center of San Mateo County with offices in Burlingame, Daly City, and Redwood City.

HEAD START — Teacher aides are needed in the San Bruno center to help with individual and group activities with preschool age children.

AID TO VICTIMS AND WITNESSES — Volunteers are needed to assist victims and witnesses of violent crimes. There are many opportunities for volunteers, such as witness guides at courthouse and helping victims in many ways including filing for state compensation. This is an opportunity to help others while learning a great deal about the criminal justice system. Complete training and directions are provided for all volunteers.

Additional information about these and other volunteer opportunities may be obtained by contacting the Volunteer Bureau at the local telephone number, 992-0957, an answering service. Residents may also call the main office in Burlingame at 342-0801, located at 119 Primrose Road.

Dean's List

Four students from Daly City made the Dean's List at California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo.

They are Nancy M. Palmieri, a senior in liberal studies; Miguel Vargas, a senior in fruit science; Donald Urbanus and Kenneth Koch, both juniors studying ornamental horticulture.

The Regent

Open house for Serramonte High School will be held on April 27 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. This year open house is being held during the school day so parents may observe their children's classes in progress. Principal Dion Dubois invites all parents and guardians to attend this new kind of open house.

SERRAMONTE SENIOR Johnny Parker recently participated in the Third Annual Dance Off on TV station ABC's AM San Francisco.

Johnny says that first the contestants, who were chosen by calling the station, were taught the popular dance, the "Bus Stop." They later performed it on the show and were judged.

This year Johnny came in eighth place out of 24 contestants. He was on the show last year and received third place for doing the "Hustle."

Johnny had a great time participating in the contest. After his second appearance on the show, he has become good friends with TV hosts Jim Dunbar and Nancy Fleming and is looking forward to next year's competition.

TEN SERRAMONTE STUDENTS recently participated in the All-District Honor Band in Santa Cruz. Joyce Boghosian, Bryan Conklin, Curtis Dennison, Anne Hardey, Eric Herzog, David Levy, Janice Lewbin, Kitti Milani, Glenn Navor and Tony Ramos stayed at a camp with other Jefferson Union High School District music students.

They practiced their musical instruments for a total of about 15 hours and held a concert on Saturday night to which their parents were invited.

Congratulations to these musicians on being chosen to participate in the Honor Band program.

SERRAMONTE'S Filipino Club is very active this year. The club consists of about 40 members. The officers are Julie Viray, president; Becky Roxas, vice president and Janet Mendez, secretary-treasurer.

Each year the club raises $150 to $200 by participating in various school activities such as the carnival, Multi-Ethnic Day and athletic food-concessions. This year funds will be allocated for a Filipino Club scholarship and a trip to Marriott's Great America on June 3.

The club also has a girls' volleyball team and boys' basketball team which compete against Filipino clubs from Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools.

Advisors E. Jacobs and R. Spackman say that the Filipino Club is open to all Serramonte students and invite those interested to become members.

SERRAMONTE JUNIOR counselor Loyd Silberstein has announced that any junior who plans to enroll in a university or four-year college in September 1978 should consider taking the S.A.T. (Scholastic Aptitude Test) on June 4.

There are definite advantages in taking the S.A.T. before a student's senior year. The deadline for filing an application is April 29. Interested students may obtain applications from Silberstein.

LITTER ON CAMPUS is a problem at Serramonte as it is at many high schools. To reduce litter, a new program which has been successful at other schools is being tried.

If students keep the campus free of litter for five consecutive days, they will be allowed to leave school one period early on the fifth day.

If this program is successful, it may be put on a permanent basis.

THE SENIOR CLASS is having a fundraiser. They are selling packages of four Reese's peanut butter cups and large Krackle Bars for 50 cents each.

Be sure to buy some of these delicious candy bars from a senior class member. Profits from the sale go toward the Junior-Senior Prom to be held at the St. Francis Hotel on May 21.

TICKETS ARE still available for Serramonte's production of "West Side Story" to be performed on May 6, 7, 13 and 14. Seats are limited, so get your tickets early. Buy them from drama and C.S.F. students or call 992-9555 for reservations.

Illegal Aliens Pouring In...

By RICK SULLIVAN and DUANE SANDUL
Illegal aliens are pouring into San Mateo County in record numbers.

Expectations of higher salaries earned under favorable working conditions in one of the richest counties in America have in recent years lured thousands of illegal aliens. So concerned are government officials that they have invited County Sheriff John R. McDonald Jr. to participate in a four-state conference which begins today to recommend a national policy to curb the historic and apparently uncontrollable flow of illegal aliens into the U.S.

Attorney generals from California, New Mexico, Texas and Arizona, plus representatives of the U.S. Attorney's Office, will meet in San Diego with invited local law enforcement officials. Their three-day conference dovetails with information gleaned by The Times as to the scope of the illegal alien problem in San Mateo County.

Research indicates that: Estimates of the illegal alien population in San Mateo County range from 15,000 to 100,000, depending on who makes the projection.

Illegal aliens are knowingly employed mostly in unskilled and semiskilled jobs, such as restaurant cooks and busboys, gardeners, janitors, assembly line workers, grocery clerks and field workers. But they also are known to hold teaching and computer programming jobs as well as lower-level managerial positions.

Local Employment Development Department Offices do not require applicants for unemployment insurance to prove they are legal residents of the U.S., making it possible for illegal aliens to collect unemployment checks.

Unlike regulations at the state and federal level, San Mateo County doesn't require proof of citizenship from applicants for general assistance welfare benefits. Hence, there is no accurate estimate as to how many illegal aliens might be claiming such benefits.

About 25 per cent of the national population of illegal aliens reside in California, according to C.E. Hoffman, assistant district director for the federal Immigration and Naturalization Service in San Francisco.

Of that, about 250,000 reside from outside Kern County north to the Oregon border. About 85,000, he claimed, reside in the Bay Area.

Hoffman estimated that about 15,000 illegal aliens live and work in San Mateo County, with the greatest percentages residing in Redwood City and on the Coastside.

An illegal alien is a person from a country other than the United States who enters America without the required documentation or permission. Government officials have long identified the influx of illegal aliens from Mexico into the United States as the nation's greatest illegal alien problem.

Hoffman's statistical estimates, he said, are the best the INS can develop, based on information provided by illegal aliens who are apprehended and from other sources.

Conversely, a San Mateo County nurseryman who has been employing illegal aliens for more than 20 years offered a strikingly higher estimate.

"If they think there are fewer than 100,000 illegal Mexicans in San Mateo County at any given time, then their eyes are closed," the grower insisted.

He banked his estimate on first-hand knowledge as well as on reports from participants in a local grower's association.

Hoffman asserted that INS apprehends between 700 and 1,250 illegal aliens each month in the Bay Area. The majority of those result from tips fed to INS agents by informants.

TOYS FOR TOTS

There will be plenty of toys for the children in the Toys for Tots booth at Our Lady of Mercy's Festival, May 5 through 8 in the parish hall, 1 Elmwood Drive, Daly City. Ready for the event are, (from left), Lisa Hughes, Tim Nevin, Michael Nevin, Tom Hughes, John Hughes, Michele Nevin, Christine Hughes. Standing in back are Mrs. M. Nevin and Mrs. John Hughes.

Most of the captured illegal aliens are loaded in INS buses near Livermore and whisked across the border within 24 hours of their apprehension, Hoffman said.

Aliens are allowed to keep possessions they accumulated while in the U.S. Those able to pay are assessed the nominal bus ride fee. Those who have nothing receive a government-paid trip "home."

Yet, in most instances, illegal aliens with families who are apprehended are given 60 days to leave the U.S.

Some leave. Some don't. The decision to allow "voluntary departures" is based on "economic and moral" considerations, Hoffman said.

Hoffman is convinced that the most effective way to shut out illegal aliens, short of "fencing the borders of a friendly country,"

INS announced two years ago, however, state law enforcement personnel were to stop such activities and merely report suspected illegal aliens to the federal department.

"We used to take the task of rounding them up," McDonald said. "Then we got into all of this human rights and alien rights stuff, and it curtailed our ability to round up illegal aliens."

"Frankly, I can't see what rights illegal aliens have."

And, also frankly, the sheriff doesn't view an end to the influx until the U.S. and states "agree that each wants stiff laws and stiff regulations."

Hoffman is convinced that the most effective way to shut out illegal aliens, short of "fencing the borders of a friendly country," is legislation slapping penalties on employers who knowingly hire an illegal worker.

He said that such legislation is mandatory if the government truly is to achieve a lower national unemployment rate.

"Our unemployment rate is deplorable," Hoffman said. "I'm told that 20 per cent of our young people graduating from high school are unemployed, and of that amount, 40 per cent are blacks."

Many businessmen still claim though that they hire illegal aliens because today's young crop of Americans refuse to take the jobs which they offer at the rates which they can pay.

Some businessmen who now hire illegal aliens told The Times they would stop

Supervisors Order Water Rationing

An emergency water rationing ordinance with clout for two-thirds of San Mateo County has been adopted by the Board of Supervisors.

Applying in all parts of the county not in cities, the emergency regulations set rationing guidelines for several water districts and their 50,000 water customers.

"Each water agency will adopt its own allocation and penalty provisions," Sid Cantwell, director of Public Works, told the Board in a letter.

Effective immediately, the new water rules are:

- Watering of lawns, golf courses, parks and landscaping is to be limited to 50 per cent of 1976 use.
- Filling of new swimming pools is prohibited.
- Washing cars, boats and trailers by hose is prohibited.
- Water connections for new construction may be granted as long as the new rules are observed.
- All residential customers will aim for a minimum goal of 25 per cent reduction in water use.
- Industrial and commercial customers will aim for a 10 per cent reduction.
- Penalty charges and restrictive devices may be imposed or installed by the agency to prevent a customer from exceeding allocations. The agency may terminate water service until such time as the customer provides proof that consumption over allocation will not occur during the water emergency," the ordinance says.

"We propose repeal of the ordinance at the time the water shortage emergency is declared over by the San Francisco Water department," Cantwell told the board members.

Peter Bohley, associate civil engineer in Cantwell's office, said the following water districts and service areas are affected by the emergency rules:

California Water Service company (with 30,000 customers, primarily in cities); Citizens Utilities company (3000); Coastside County Water district (4000); North Coast County Water district (8000, including the city of Pacifica); Redwood City Water department (Emerald Lake Hills area, 800); Palo Alto Mutual Water company (East Palo Alto, 100); Los Trancos County Water district (211); and Cuesta La Honda Guild (250).

the practice if legally compelled to do so.

On the other hand, one county nurseryman said if such legislation were enacted he would close his business "because he could no longer afford to operate. Whatever the case, illegal aliens have discovered that employers in San Mateo County are indeed holding jobs for them, and they are streaming across the border to get on local payrolls.

Company Director Diane Roberts will model at the annual Fashion Show Luncheon of the Daly City Civic Ballet on April 30 at the Franciscan Country Club. For reservations, call Mrs. Vincent Rignoli at 992-1876 or the Daly City Recreation Department. Tickets are $3.50.

The Senior Class at University of San Francisco is sponsoring a Crafts Sale on May 4. The sale will take place between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. in Harney Plaza and will feature the work of 50 craftsmen from around the Bay Area.

The event is free and open to the public. U.S.F. is located on Golden Gate Avenue between Masonic and Parker Streets.

Auditions

The illegal aliens also are learning, according to state officials, that it is becoming increasingly easier to receive unemployment insurance and to benefit from social services because of lax laws and policies governing those programs.

The programs are paid for by taxpayers.

Mark Gillick, state director of the Employment Development Department (EDD) issued a directive last December to all EDD branch personnel stating that they no longer are required to demand proof of legal residency from applicants for unemployment benefits.

EDD policy now requires an applicant only to acknowledge that he or she is a U.S. citizen.

If an applicant answers affirmatively, there is no mandated procedure to verify the response.

Gene Livingston, assistant state director of EDD, explained that previous verifying procedures often resulted in denial of benefits to illegal aliens, but at the same time encouraged employers to hire them.

Employers make unemployment payments to the state in accordance with the number of former employees who claim the benefits, he explained.

The new procedure has allowed many illegal aliens in San Mateo County to claim unemployment insurance benefits for being laid off from jobs they held illegally, one local EDD official acknowledged.

A county procedure governing disbursement of general assistance welfare benefits also contains no requirement to demand proof of citizenship.

Robert Rippeto, county director of social services, stated that he has no way of knowing how many illegal aliens apply for general assistance.

San Mateo County allocated $1.3 million garnered from property taxes to fund the general assistance welfare program this fiscal year.

State and federal guidelines for the appropriation of aid through other welfare programs — Aid to Families With Dependent Children, Medicare and Medi-Cal — do however,

$500 Award

Debra L. Hutton, a senior at Serramonte High School, Daly City, won a $500 award as one of 34 runners-up for Pacific Gas & Electric Company four-year scholarships.

Miss Hutton was a runner-up for one of two scholarships given in special recognition of students who have excelled despite economic, environmental or motivational disadvantage.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas C. Hutton of Daly City and anticipates graduate study after college.

mandate that all claims of citizenship be verified.

All applications for AFDC and Medicare and Medi-Cal benefits submitted by persons who claim they are citizens but are suspected of lying must be referred to the INS office for verification, according to authorities.

But recent amendments in the federal Social Security Act have reportedly made it easier to claim benefits for aliens.

Residents of San Francisco and San Mateo counties are diligently working to defeat the proposed law. Alvin Baudour of Redwood City is circulating a petition in the South County asking registered voters to demand that illegal aliens be denied social welfare benefits and that other provisions be enacted to assure that aliens residing here legally be required to live and work in this country for five years before claiming any benefits.

Baudour has been collecting signatures for the past six weeks. He plans to pass the petitions on to his local representative, Congressman Leo Ryan, D-San Mateo.

The petition asks that Ryan initiate legislation to: • "Make it mandatory that all applicants (for welfare benefits) be required to provide proof of citizenship prior to receipt of funds.

• "Close all loopholes and halt the indiscriminate and blatant raids on Supplementary Security Income and Medicare systems by any and all aliens who have not, cannot or will not contribute to perpetuate these funds.

• "Prevent aliens 65 years of age or older from applying for SSI and Medicare unless they can substantiate their contributions to the Internal Revenue Service.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Vince's Prepares Food to Take Out

Are you aware that VINCE'S ITALIAN and SEA-FOOD restaurant, the "Fisherman's Wharf of the Peninsula," puts up orders to go? Appetizers, soups, salads, all varieties of fresh fish when available, a great selection of Italian specialties, and even children's plates, are prepared to take out. What a meal we had the other night! The very pleasant hostess who took our order over the phone was particular in every detail. First on our a la carte dinner agenda were Olympic Oyster Cocktails, followed by tossed green dinner salads (the Blue Cheese dressing really has cheese in it). The entree choice was One-half Chicken Broiled, which was packed in special illuminated containers to keep hot until served. A choice of potatoes, spaghetti, ravioli or vegetable was included with the orders, plus a goodly amount of French bread. A tasty dessert to order (if you still have room) is Cheese Cake. Delicious! L.A. Dodgers pitching ace Don Sutton, in San Francisco for the season opener against the Giants, made a bee line for PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY, on the lower level of the San Francisco Hilton Tower. Sutton is a long-time friend of Steakery Manager HORST MEYER, and always dines at the Steakery whenever he is in town.

Scotty Campbell's For Prom Parties

SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S is very much favored by the younger prom crowd. Kris DeJonge and her escort, Jeff Johnson, were among the teen set to enjoy dinner here on Saturday's Prom Night. Added excitement prevailed at this superb Redwood City restaurant during Frank Sinatra's engagement at nearby Circle Star Theater. Diners anticipated his dining room appearance. With the extra hour of daylight this Sunday, ENRICO ROMANO, owner of ROMANO'S Italian and Seafood restaurant in Rockaway Beach, suggests you take a short drive to the coast and enjoy a leisurely meal at his "come-as-you-are" restaurant. On your next shopping safari to downtown San Francisco, have lunch in a beautiful garden at LEHR'S GREENHOUSE garden restaurant, on Sutter Street just a few steps from Union Square. It is filled with exotic flowers, tropical plants and towering banana palm trees, and the food is as outstanding as the setting. Be sure to order the Crepes a la Reine for an unforgettable dining treat. San Mateo's IDA NEWMAN seen vacationing in South Lake Tahoe at Harrah's and trying her luck on the new $50,000 Jackpot slot machine at BARNEY'S.

Festive Mother's Day Dining Plans

MANUEL CANARI, food and beverage director of the AIRPORT MARINA HOTEL in Burlingame, is making plans for a festive Mother's Day Champagne Brunch in Shipwreck Kelly's dining room. Turkey, ham and roast beef, all carved to order, will be among the entrees served from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Among the many fine specialties listed on the menu at the HOUSE OF TROY restaurant in San Carlos are Monterey Abalone, Louisiana Prawns, and a Lobster Tail Special, which includes soup or salad, dessert and coffee. Junior Troy dinners are also available. To avoid weekend crowds, enjoy dinner any day during the week. Luncheon is served Monday through Friday. Carab Chips from a health food store, and Granola are two new items to be enjoyed at THE YOGHURT TREE on Peninsula Avenue. Raspberry is the special yogurt flavor this weekend. BEARDSLEY'S, named after Aubrey Beardsley, a noted 19th Century artist, displays reproductions of his paintings and murals throughout the Burlingame restaurant. The three waiters painted on the outside of the building are also taken from the Beardsley collection. Fresh Fruit Salad is served with a choice of Soft-Serve Yogurt or cottage cheese at THE OMELETTE HOUSE, where the omelette variety is almost unbelievable. Speaking of friendly bartenders, BOB JACOBS, whose ear so many VILLAGE LOUNGE patrons bend while sipping their favorite beverages, recently completed his third year as a VILLA HOTEL employee.

New Sizzler Open In Serramonte Mall

For the "prime of your life," be sure to try the Prime Rib Platter at the SIZZLER FAMILY STEAK HOUSES, which now has a restaurant in the Serramonte Shopping Center, Daly City. Included is a baked potato or French fries and Sizzler cheese toast. Of special interest: There is a separate section for non-smoking diners. After enjoying dinner and the vista views of the Pacific Ocean at CAPTAIN CHARLES or THE MOONRAKER restaurants, Rockaway Beach, many customers toss a coin into the Wishing Well as they pass through the corridor. Dreams do come true. The Pacific Lions Club puts the "well money" towards youth welfare. THE TRI SOUNDS will be playing the dance sounds at the BAYHILL LOUNGE, San Bruno, Friday and Saturday nights as usual. The group, which has been entertaining here for over a year, signed a contract which takes them through New Year's Eve. Senior Citizens are pleasantly surprised at the high quality and abundant helpings of the $2.95 complete dinners now being offered at YOLANDA'S, South San Francisco, Monday through Thursday all through April. Roast Sirloin of Beef and Chicken Cacciatore are the special entrees. The paintings of beautiful women and picturesque landscapes that adorn the dining room walls at OLIVER'S restaurant not only add to the atmosphere, but are for sale. A reminder: MOTHER'S DAY is Sunday, May 8, and if you're planning to dine out, reservations are indeed recommended. See "BRIGHT LIGHTS" next Wednesday for restaurant dining suggestions.

Officer Cota identified a vehicle and subject captured after a chase in Daly City. Sergeant Lyons and Detectives Mendiara and Martin worked together to capture three robbery suspect following a high speed vehicle pursuit.

Suggestions For Saving Water

Janet Felmeth, director of White-Westinghouse Appliance Company's Home Economics Institute, and an authority on the use of major home appliances, said there are many things Californians can do to alleviate some of the problems, caused by the drought.

"Most California residents are already doing the obvious," Ms. Felmeth noted. "They're not washing their cars, filling their swimming pools, basking in a hot shower, or sprinkling their lawns. But they must continue to heat and use water for a variety of household jobs such as washing clothes. This is an area where homemakers can conserve water and energy if they simply plan ahead.

"Many homemakers," Ms. Felmeth said, "are used to washing clothes when it's personally convenient to do so. When water was plentiful, and energy was inexpensive, it was a simple matter to toss a partial load of clothes into the washer, sometimes more than once a day.

"This practice is obviously costly and wasteful, especially today," she said.

Salute to Scout Leaders

A salute to the leaders of the Daly City Girl Scout Association at the annual recognition luncheon is scheduled for May 26 at La Concha, 11 San Pedro Road in Daly City.

Reservations are being taken by Caroline Futrell for the $4 a-plate luncheon with a choice of a Mexican plate, a salad plate or a small steak.

Adults (and senior Girl Scouts who would prefer to receive recognition from the adult association) who believe they are due year pins in increments of 5, 10, 15 or more years should phone their requests to Roz Morino at 992-4327.

No-hostess refreshments will be served at 11:30 a.m. with luncheon being served at noon. Jane Stewart will be guest vocalist. It is suggested that troop committee members take a leader to lunch.

The luncheon planning committee consists of Joann Stewart, Roz Morino and Caroline Futrell. The awards and recognition committee consists of Virginia Nowicki, Margaret Connolly, Roz Morino, Caroline Futrell and MaryAnn Dale.

The focus of recognizing and honoring the leaders who spend time with girls came from many sources, local, neighborhood, countywide and councilwide. The Daly City-Colma area is part of the five-county-wide San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council.

Barbershop Strains in Serramonte

The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America is celebrating its 39th birthday this month. From humble beginnings in Oklahoma in 1939, the Society has grown to nearly 40,000 members across the United States, England, Sweden and Guam.

To honor this 39th anniversary, the Cable Car Chorus is holding an audition-for-admission show at Serramonte shopping center.

On April 29, at 7:30 p.m., the old time strains of four-part barbershop harmony will ring on the mall at Serramonte. A 30-man chorus and several quartets will sing old melodies of days gone by.

Singers are invited to sit in the barbershop chair and harmonize with a quartet. Following the show there will be a meeting in the Erakat Restaurant to sing together.

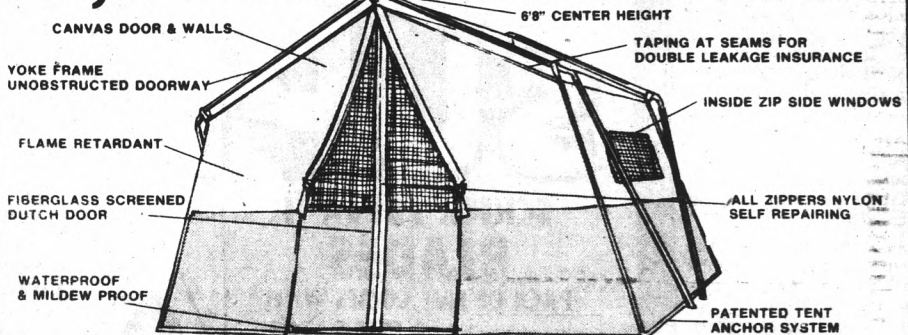

The Cable Car Chorus meets Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Lowell High School, 1101 Eucalyptus Ave. in San Francisco.

Deficit Worries

Jefferson Board

Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees took a "tentative look" this week at the proposed JUHSD 1977-78 budget and didn't like what it saw.

The board's attention was directed primarily to the figure of $307,957 — the difference between the proposed $16,033,518 in expenditures and the projected $15,725,561 income.

"We have to look at why there is a deficit of $307,957," Robert Watt, assistant superintendent in charge of business operations, told the board.

The board decided to meet May 2 at Oceana High School's library for a more comprehensive budget study. Board members expressed hope that district residents will attend the 7:30 p.m. budget meeting.

"It's very important to urge public participation while the budget is in the process of being developed," said board member John Sloane.

Watt said gas, electric and water bills for the district are expected to skyrocket next year. Teachers' salaries also will go up considerably, he noted.

"This is the most tentative budget we've presented since I've been assistant superintendent," Watt added.

He explained that the Serrano-Priest bill which would equalize funding between school districts has not yet been passed. The bill would have a major financial impact on JUHSD and would presumably increase its revenues considerably.

"This is the most crucial year for educational legislation — it will set the pattern for years to come," said Floyd Gonella, JUHSD superintendent.

"The big issues in the state are educational finance and property tax reform and they're on a collision course," Gonella concluded.

In other business, the board approved the first library book detection system for the district — but not without much discussion.

The detection system will be a pilot project for Terra Nova High School and is estimated to cost $6,700. It will consist of turnstiles which lock when students attempt to remove library materials which they haven't checked out.

School officials pointed out that the district has averaged book losses of $36,462 a year for the past five years. The amount is the estimated replacement cost for the pilfered materials.

"We can't protect our books. Our losses are staggering. Taxpayers are losing thousands of dollars, but the real losers are the students who need the materials which have been taken," said one of the school librarians.

Ernest Ribera, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, said the system would be tried out at Terra Nova for at least a year before the district decides to install it in all schools.

He pointed out that although pilferage is actually lower at Terra Nova than at several other district schools, "We have good controls there and we'll be able to get good statistics."

Several district librarians emphasized that they have tried to stress to students the importance of checking out books properly and have used book checkers at library entrances, but to no avail.

"There is no reason for them to steal," said a librarian. "All materials are available to be checked out."

Chamber Honors Top DC Students

Daly City's Chamber of Commerce honored four young people as outstanding high school students at a Thursday awards luncheon.

Jeanett Lopez of Jefferson High, Dan Lara of Serramonte High, James Densby of Thornton High and Lisa Maurino of Westmoor High each was presented with a $100 savings bond by the sponsor.

"We're here today for one of our happiest events, to honor the young people who have done so much in their education and citizenship," said Charles K. Turner, chamber president.

"We're proud of you and your parents for achieving this honor," said Mayor Albert M. Teglia.

The chamber also named three certificate of merit winners for each of the four Daly City schools.

Principals of the four schools presented their outstanding student award winners and told the chamber briefly about the top student.

Jefferson High Principal Richard Burt said Jeanett Lopez has held class offices for three years, been a varsity cheerleader and maintained an honor roll average each semester. She plans to attend San Francisco State and become a teacher.

Serramonte High's Dan Lara was characterized as a "mature man" by Principal Dion Dubois. Dubois said the school's star quarterback is "one of the brightest kids I've seen in a long time."

Principal Thomas Mohr of Thornton High spoke of James Densby as "one of the finest young men I've worked with. He really cares about people and always sees the bright side of things." Mohr lauded Densby's outstanding mathematics accomplishments.

Westmoor High Principal Clayton Kollman called Lisa Maurino a "natural-born leader" and said the student body president's athletic prowess makes her "truly a fantastic young lady."

Certificate of merit students from Jefferson were Essie Alexander, Eleanor Fielder and Daphnie McGrath. Serramonte's merit students were Debbie Huton, James Theis and Janet Aguilera.

Honored as certificate of merit winners from Thornton High were Elizabeth Spencer, Sue Osterberg and Craig Gatewood.

Lori Cheyne and DeMary Dominguez were Westmoor's certificate winners.

Elio Fontano from the San Mateo County Board of Education presented the Daly City Chamber of Commerce with a board resolution commending the student awards, which have been sponsored by the chamber for 19 years.

SF Airport Land Use Study Debated

THE POST
Wednesday, April 27, 1977

By GEORGE GOLDING
A half-million dollars is about to be spent on studying land uses on and around San Francisco International Airport and several people want to make sure it's spent wisely.

Walter Gilfillan, newly appointed project manager for the study, told the San Mateo County Airport Land Use Committee the proposed work plan will be given further public hearing at a meeting of the San Francisco-San Mateo County Joint Powers Board at South San Francisco City Hall at 9 a.m. May 11.

Gilfillan outlined his 19-page description of the work to be performed, which may shape the future of the airport and surrounding areas for years to come.

Then the public took over.

Mostly, she said, the work plan needs to be more specific, to place greater emphasis on environmental concerns.

The study's stated objective is to assure orderly "growth and development" of the big airport. This should be changed, she said, to consider a no-growth alternative.

Ellie Larson of San Bruno, Kathleen Van Velsor of San Francisco, Sylvia Gregory of San Bruno, Rose Urbach of San Bruno, and Jesse Brocker of Millbrae, took turns adding specific points to be considered.

Committee members added their own comments to the public statements, telling Gilfillan they look forward to working with him to solve problems between San Francisco, which owns the airport, and the cities that surround it.

Gilfillan said "there is no guarantee" that any of the material produced by the study will be effective in producing a better future. Unless San Mateo County communities work with the airport and its management, he said, there will be little hope of improvement.

The result of the study, he said, will be a master land use plan for the airport property, and for areas around the airport, plus a master environmental impact report on effects of changes in land use.

Whether the surrounding communities adopt the recommendations and give them strength by zoning regulations, he said, will be up to the various cities.

As for land use on the airport itself, Gilfillan said, he cannot promise that recommendations produced by the study will be adopted by the San Francisco Airports Commission.

He said he feels assured that San Francisco and San Mateo County and its communities will continue to work together on this, because the two counties have got together to form the Joint Powers Board which is conducting the study.

"It may be a marriage of convenience," he suggested, but it may work.

"It's more like a shotgun wedding," commented one committee member, "so let's hope it works."

Sets Carnival

A community carnival sponsored by the student body of South San Francisco High School will be held April 29 to May 1 at the school.

Scuba Diver Aided

By TERRY DAVENPORT

A young woman suffering excruciating pains, was transported from Pacifica to San Diego in a complicated rescue operation late Wednesday and early Thursday that involved superhuman efforts on the part of the U.S. Coast Guard, the U.S. Navy and Medevac, including one paramedic from Redwood City who worked many hours of overtime to see her to safety.

Deborah Crandall, 22, of San Francisco, was stricken with what doctors and paramedics believed to be the bends while taking skin diving lessons in a class given by Anderson Skin Diving School in Pacifica.

She surfaced quickly in a pool that contained only 12 feet of water and doubled over in pain.

The Pacifica station of Medevac rushed to the scene at 10:45 p.m. and transported her to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco, where doctors determined that she needed a special decompression chamber, not available in the Bay Area. The closest chamber is in San Diego.

"She was in extreme pain," said Dale Childers, chief paramedic of the Pacifica unit.

The Coast Guard was contacted for emergency transportation to San Diego. Mrs. Crandall was taken to the Coast Guard station at San Francisco International Airport and loaded onto a C-130 aircraft.

A paramedic who transported the woman from Kaiser Hospital to the airplane was so concerned about the patient that he decided to accompany her on the flight south.

Said the paramedic, Mark Pizzitola of Redwood City:

"She was frightened, and I had been with her and was familiar with her problems and with the drugs she had been given. I decided it was in her best interest to accompany her."

Pizzitola is the chief paramedic at Menlo Park and was working an overtime shift in Brisbane when the rescue call came in.

"The plane was so noisy that we could hardly hear each other," he said.

Mrs. Crandall was fully conscious during the rescue operation and suffered severe pains in her chest. Her husband, Mark, and five Coast Guard crew members and a military paramedic also were aboard the plane.

The plane had to fly as low as possible to keep the cabin pressure down and reduce Mrs. Crandall's pain.

"They didn't tell me that until the flight back," said Pizzitola. "I'm glad they didn't tell me at the time."

When the airplane arrived at the Naval Air Station on North Island in San Diego at 3:28 a.m., it was met by a Navy ambulance, which rushed Mrs. Crandall to a decompression chamber base.

However, Navy doctors determined that Mrs. Crandall was not, in fact, suffering from the bends and did not place her in the decompression chamber. She was sent to Kaiser Hospital in Mission Gorge, San Diego, and was released this morning.

A Hearty, Thick Soup

Good morning, good cooks.

This thick hearty beef soup is definitely for EATING. There's plenty of chunky texture to make it more like a stew than a soup. Intended to be a full course offering, it is practically a whole meal by itself. With some trusty French bread and butter, a nourishing soup such as this will satisfy most appetites. High protein beef chuck plus a selection of fresh carrots and onions, dry lentils and canned tomatoes simmer in less than an hour to unite the flavors in a most delicious way.

If you've never cooked lentils, before you may be pleasantly surprised to discover that unlike other dried legumes, they do not require presoaking for long cooking. Make sure you wash them first. Then into the pot they go along with everything else. Beef chuck is used to give the soup its robust flavor. Separate the meat from the bones but make sure to put the bones in the pot, too, so you'll capture the fine rich flavor they contribute to the soup. Total cooking time is about 45 minutes — ample for both the beef and the lentils. In this period the other vegetables retain their color and texture which adds to the eye appeal of the finished soup.

QUICK BEEF LENTIL SOUP

1½ pounds lean beef chuck steak
6 slices bacon
1½ cups onion, chopped
2 cups thinly sliced carrots
1/3 cup minced parsley

Nell Norton

1 (8-ounce) can stewed tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon sage
6 cups water

Trim beef from the bones of the 1½ pound chuck steak. Save the large bones. Discard small bones and excess fat. Cut beef into ¼-inch cubes. Dice the six slices bacon and fry in dutch oven. Drain off drippings. Add beef, large bones and the one and one-half cups washed lentils, two cups thinly sliced carrots, one-third cup minced parsley, eight ounces stewed tomatoes, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, half teaspoon sage and six cups water. Cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat. Simmer 45 minutes or until lentils are tender.
Makes 2½ quarts.

niques, business arithmetic, spelling, punctuation, English grammar, bookkeeping, and operation of transcribing, duplicating and adding machines. Length of training varies and job placement counseling is offered upon completion of the course.

TV Violence Is Target of PTA

The National PTA is giving the networks notice that it means business about TV violence. On July 1, the PTA will launch its "First Action Plan," the next step in its project to reduce TV violence, and improve the overall quality of programming.

Running for a six-month time span until January 1, 1978, this initial action phase is a "probationary period" for the networks, in which they'll have the opportunity to respond to the demands of the PTA's 6.5 million members for less TV gore and more diversity and quality in shows.

During this time, PTA members across the nation will be directly involved in an intensive training program and activities to make the organization's cause visible to the TV industry, advertisers, and the public. At the base of all activities will be the National PTA's "TV Action Center," a newly established operation which will be the National PTA's "TV Action Center," a newly established operation which will serve as a clearinghouse for all information related to the project.

If there is no substantial response from the networks by January 1, 1978, the National PTA will consider alternative courses of action, such as boycotts of advertisers, programs, and local stations; selected test cases of petition to deny licensing; and civil litigation.

The First Action Plan will focus on a massive letter writing campaign to the top executives of local TV stations — for the stations' public files — commenting on both exemplary and objectionable programming, with copies to the networks, program advertisers, and the National PTA.

TEA FOR TWO

Getting in practice for the annual mother-daughter tea is Elizabeth Pritchard, Broadmoor United Presbyterian Women president, as she pours a cup of tea for the chairman of the event, Marie Edmison. All women in the community are invited to the May 3 tea, which will feature a program and displays on the theme, "Trinkets and Treasures." It will be held in the church social hall.
